[NUMB. 894.]

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY June 24th, to MONDAY July 1st, 1751.

PARIS, February 25.

ACCORDING to the advices which we daily receive from Breſt, Rochefort, and the other ports of this kingdom, the utmoſt diligence is uſed in building men of war and frigates, and, by the particular application of the miniſtry, that work goes on with the greateſt ſucceſs.

Berlin, Feb. 20. A reſcript of the king has been publiſhed, addreſſed to the electors of the empire, whereby his majeſty invites them to communicate to him their opinions, in regard to the election of a king of the Romans.

Vienna, Feb. 13. The fortifications of Tameſwaer having been a little neglected ſince the laſt war, the court has taken a reſolution not only to have them repaired in the ſpring, but even to add ſome new works.

Peterſburgh, Feb. 8. Several engineers are ſet out from hence for Livonia, in order to viſit the fortified places of that province, and to make ſuch repairs as ſhall be thought neceſſary; and orders are ſent to the governors of Cronſtadt, Revel, and Frederickſham, for the equipping with all diligence the men of war, gallies and other ſhips which are to compoſe the fleet of this empire, in order to their being in readineſs to put to ſea as ſoon as the Baltick ſhall be free from ice.

Madrid, Feb. 11. According to our advices from the ſeveral ports of this kingdom, they continue to fit out men of war there with all poſſible expedition, and it is computed that his majeſty will have forty-four ſhips of the line ready to put to ſea about the middle of April. Letters from Peru adviſe, that a deep cavern has been diſcovered in a village called Urcos, about 15 miles from Cuſco, upon the river Qui Qui Xana, in which were three coffins of maſſy gold two inches and a half thick, wherein, as far as they could judge from ſome old characters engraved upon them, were depoſited the bones of three of the antient kings of that country. Theſe letters add, that upon a more exact ſearch, ſeveral cavities were found in this cavern, and that the inhabitants were not without hopes of finding ſome of the immenſe treaſure which were concealed by the ſubjects of Atabalipa, when Francis Pizaro, at the head of a handful of Spaniards, conquered that rich country in 1532.

Cracovia, Feb. 20. We are at preſent very attentive to the motions of the Turks in Moldavia, Baſſarabia, and upon the river Bog; according to our advices from thence, great number of troops arrive there daily, which ſerve to gariſon the fortified places; and by the quantity of proviſions and ammunition that is ſent there, it's thought an encampment is going to be made. We can't yet penetrate the deſign of the Ottoman Porte. Several are of opinion, that as ſome detachments of Janiſſaries have mutinied, and obliged the governors of places to retire, the grand Signor has reſolved to aſſemble a body of troops in order to bring them to reaſon. Be that as it will, it's reported that ſome troops will be ſent towards the frontiers of Podolia, to watch the motions of the infidels.

Paris, Feb. 26. The neceſſary meaſures are taking in this kingdom to promote the trade eſtabliſh'd upon the coaſt of Guiney. With this view ſeveral veſſels are fitting out in order to tranſport artillery and ammunition to that country, and likewiſe ſome hundreds of people, which are intended to found a colony there. Letters from Rochelle adviſe, that ſeveral veſſels are gone from thence with recruits to compleat the gariſons of the ſeveral colonies in America. It is ſaid that above 600 officers who have been diſcharged ſince the peace, are gone to ſerve in thoſe colonies.

An Extract of a Letter from the Hague, dated Feb. 28.

"We flattered ourſelves here, that the affair of the tariff with France was going to be determined; but ſo far is it from being ſo that the moſt Chriſtian king has juſt not only eſtabliſhed the duty of fifty ſols per ton upon our ſhipping, but by charging them much more than they carry, it is made to amount to near five florins.—His majeſty has alſo eſtabliſhed a duty of twenty per cent. upon the merchandize from the Levant. This is a ſtroke more than is neceſſary for ruining our commerce with France. His majeſty cannot revenge himſelf upon England for the ſteps which are taking in the empire; he therefore diſcharges his wrath upon the Republic for taking part with the king of Great-Britain in the treaties with Cologn, Bavaria, and Saxony; and our affairs are in ſuch a ſituation, that we dare not lift up our heads. It is evident France has determined to chaſtiſe the Dutch; but without publickly ſaying ſo.

Vienna, March 6. By the diſpatches which the court has received from its miniſter at Conſtantinople we are informed, that a conſiderable change was made the beginning of laſt month in the Ottoman miniſtry, the captain baſhaw, the grand treaſurer, and the firſt ſecretary of the grand vizir having been put out of their employments, and exiled, for thinking differently upon political ſubjects to the prime miniſter.

Franckfort, March 7. The diſtemper amongſt the horned cattle, which lately broke out in the circles of Franconia and Swabia, rages now to ſuch a degree, that in many places they have ſcarcely an ox or a cow left.

Abundance of horſes daily paſs this way, going to France; and the report is confirmed, that his moſt Chriſtian majeſty has contracted for upwards of 20,000 horſes to remount his cavalry.

Hague, March 18. The States General have juſt granted permiſſion to import Engliſh horſes into theſe provinces, in the ſame manner as in time paſt.

Ratiſbon, Feb. 8. It is generally reported here, that a marriage is upon the Tapis between the reigning duke of Deux-Ponts and a princeſs of England. The duke of Saxe-Gotha and Saxe-Saalfeld, have agreed to eſtabliſh a ſtadtholder, to adminiſter in their reſpective names the Dutchy of Weymar, and to name for that purpoſe the Count de Bunau, chamberlain of the king of Poland, elector of Saxony.

Berlin, Feb. 13. His majeſty having reſolved to eſtabliſh a manufacture of Porcelain here, which ſhould imitate that of Meiſſen in Saxony, has given the direction thereof to the famous merchant Wegeli.

Turin, Feb. 1. The regular forces that were in gariſon upon the frontiers have received orders to rejoin their reſpective regiments, and the independent companies that were in the fortreſſes in the interior parts of Savoy and Piedmont, are appointed to replace them on the frontiers; this is looked upon as an extraordinary thing in time of peace.

Dreſden, Feb. 16. Orders have been given to complete by the beginning of May the ſeveral regiments which compoſe the troops of this electorate.

London, April 2. At eleven o'clock on Sunday night laſt, died at his houſe in new Palace yard, the right hon. Robert Walpole, earl of Orford, viſcount Walpole, auditor of the exchequer, lord lieutenant and cuſtos rotulorum of Devonſhire, keeper of Richmond park, and maſter of the Harriers and Fox-hounds.

He married, on Tueſday the 27th of March, 1724, Margaret, daughter and ſole heir of Samuel Rolles, of Haynton in the county of Devon, Eſq; by whom he has left iſſue one ſon, George lord viſcount Walpole, now earl of Orford, born the 2d of April, 1730, who ſucceeds him in title and eſtate.

Yeſterday the right hon. the lords of the Treaſury ſigned a grant of the place of Auditor of the Exchequer, for life unto the right hon. Henry Clinton earl of Lincoln, ſon-in law to the right hon. Henry Pelham Eſq; firſt lord of the treaſury.

London, April 5. Yeſterday the right hon. the lord viſcount Deerhurſt took the oaths and his ſeat in the houſe of peers, as earl of Coventry, in the room of his father, deceaſed.

We hear that the Eaſt-India company have received advice that the Great Mogul has routed the French army near Pondicherry, and kill'd near 2000.

London, April 6. It is confidently reported, that the Turks are making great preparations for war, both by ſea as well as land, orders having been given to put their fleet into the beſt condition.

They are buſy at work in his majeſty's yards, in fitting out ſeveral men of war, ſome of whom are intended for the Weſt-Indies, and the reſt to form a ſmall ſquadron which 'tis ſtill ſaid are deſtin'd for the Baltick.

—Laſt night Mr. Bentinck, one of the deputy ſtates of Holland, arrived at the late counteſs of Portland's houſe in privy garden, Whitehall, from Holland.

London, April 10. By the maſter of a coaſting veſſel from Lymington we have advice, that on Thurſday laſt ſix French men of war war were plying to windward off Dungeneſs, which are ſuppoſed to be deſtin'd for the Baltick; an account of which has been tranſmitted to the lords of the admiralty.

Laſt night the earl of Orford arrived here from Paris.

London, April 19. The Rye man of war, Capt. Wray, from Carolina and Liſbon, is arrived at Portſmouth.

Boſton, April 8. We hear from Rhode-Iſland, that their laſt aſſembly at Providence paſſed an act for emitting Two Hundred Thouſand Pounds, old tenor, on loan for ten years; both principal and intereſt to be paid at that period.—They have aſcertained the value at eight for one, fixing dollars at 48 s. bills of exchange at 1200 that is 1100 advance; enforcing the obſervance of this law with the like penalties as thoſe in this province, and made the puniſhment for counterfeiting, death. The intereſt is 6 per Cent. to be paid annually; that is to be improved to encourage induſtry, giving a bounty on linnen and woollen manufactures of that colony; as alſo to the whale and cod fiſhery.

Boſton, April 22. By veſſels from Halifax we have advice, that on the 27th of March paſt, a body of Indians attack'd the newly ſettled town of Dartmouth, oppoſite to Halifax, and kill'd one or two of the inhabitants, took ſeveral others captives, and ſcalp'd a boy, who afterwards made his eſcape from them.

We alſo hear, that his excellency governor CORNWALLIS was preparing to ſet out upon a viſit to the inhabitants of Chegnecto.

Boſton, May 13. We hear from Chegnecto in Nova-Scotia, that ſometime laſt month, in the night, a large body of Indians, (or French and Indians) attack'd the fort for a conſiderable time, and then drew off. Soon after they fired ſome hundreds of ſhot at a ſloop, —— Miller maſter, and wounded one man, who is in a fair way of recovery.

Halifax, May 13. Laſt night a large party of Indians came upon the town of Dartmouth, and ſhot the centry dead on the ſpot, then they kill'd the ſerjeant of the guard, and ſeveral other ſoldiers; after which they proceeded to the town, and murder'd ſeveral men and women in their beds, whom they mangled in a ſurprizing manner. One woman eſcaped their fury, and came over here this morning with one breaſt cut off by them. Nine perſons are kill'd, and 13 taken priſoners, beſides a great many wounded. Our people attack'd them in their retreat, and kill'd two or three of them, but were not in a condition to purſue them farther into the woods.

Halifax, Nova-Scotia, April 24, 1751.

THIS is to acquaint all Maſters of Veſſels that may come into the Harbour of Halifax, in Nova-Scotia, that there are Three Buoys placed, that they may avoid the ſunken rocks: They are to obſerve the following directions; the firſt is a White Buoy, which is off the Entrance of the North-Weſt River, which muſt be left on the Larboard Side, as you ſail into the Harbour; the ſecond is a Red Buoy, which is off the North-End of Cornwallis Iſland, which muſt be left on the Starboard Side; the other is a Black Buoy, which is placed about half Way between the Buoy that is off the North-Weſt River, and George's Iſland, and muſt be left on the Larboard ſide.
